The Nature of Leadership

SHAPE YOUR LEADERSHIP
PATH

EXPLORE THE NATURE OF LEADERSHIP – TAKE RESPONSIBILITY AND SHAPE YOUR LEADERSHIP PATH

The Nature of Leadership is the first stage of our leadership development at Haniel. In this program we plant the seeds of leadership and developing a leaders mindset that will flourish and grow. As your career matures you will gain greater experience and exposure to learning opportunities.

The principles that are taught will provide you with a foundation for your long and successful leadership development path, able to adapt to an everchanging environment and meeting the needs of teams and employees into the future. Leaders need to be able to think big and see what's ahead of them on the horizon to be able to adapt quickly, whilst driving team performance and improvement.

A leaders ability to coach must be stimulated, giving awareness of the importance of coaching performance through effective communication and interactions and its impact and power on individuals.

Learning through experience, of the value of effective one-to-ones and their place in the development path of individual team members will act as a catalyst to developing further mentoring and coaching skills as leaders grow.

Finally understanding the Nature of Leadership and the intention of a leader may itself be the most significant and lasting of all the principles. Being aware that through your actions and behaviors you can influence the performance of your team to produce results much greater than any individual could achieve is perhaps the very Nature of Leadership.
